Course Description

Learn to screen, identify, manage and co-treat patients with sleep apnea and TMJ disorders.

It is estimated that over 10 million Americans are affected with TMD. When treating a patient with oral appliance therapy (OAT) for the management of obstructive sleep apnea, it is necessary to have an understanding of the anatomy, function, and disorders that may arise from treating patients with an OA.

Benefits of Attending

- ✓ Gain a solid foundation of TMJ anatomy and function
- ✓ Understand how to diagnose various TMJ disorders
- ✓ Triage patients with sleep apnea and TMJ disorders. What needs to be treated first.
- ✓ Hands-on trigger point injections for TMD
